Advanced MIS and Endoluminal Therapy Symposium

Wednesday, January 23, 2013
Hadassah Medical Center, Jerusalem

This unique international symposium is focused on advanced MIS and Endoluminal therapy. It will consist of a full day of state-of-the-art lectures providing an update on new techniques and new technologies for clinical applications by internationally renowned faculty. This will be an opportunity for gastroenterologists and surgeons to interface with each other during joint sessions in the areas that binds them.

Target Audience

The target audience for this symposium include surgeons practicing minimally invasive surgery in their practice and gastroenterologists interested in ESD and endoluminal therapy. Other physicians who care for patients requiring surgery for bariatrics, GERD, GIST and general "bread and butter" conditions are welcome.
